FORT MASON CENTER SUMMER 09 FREE

Destination Fort Mason Center

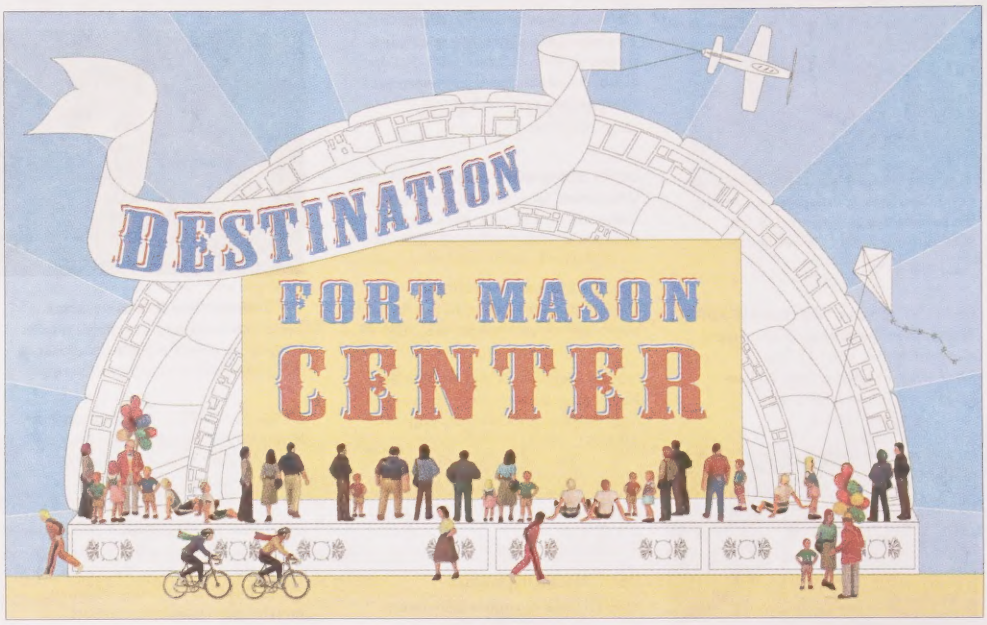
▶ A WATERFRONT CELEBRATION OF ART AND THE ENVIRONMENT IN JULY, AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER

Art touches people in unexpected ways. Whether casually admiring an exhibit piece, actively cheering on an especially lithe contortionist, devouring a Yucatán specialty, or collaborating with a child in the creation of art or music—you will find occasions to discuss art and the environment around every bend at Fort Mason Center this summer.

Resident organizations, along with other Bay Area artists and organizations, will participate in this collaboration by bringing their work and talents to venues throughout the Fort Mason Center campus. Community collaboration is an important aspect of maintaining a sustainable environment—that's why most of the programming is free to the public. We want you here, to join us in the celebration.

On most Saturdays, (except Labor Day weekend) from July 18-September 12, Fort Mason Center brings you a diverse lineup of engaging things-to-do at Destination Fort Mason Center. You can roll up your sleeves to create art, enjoy professional artists performing on our outdoor stage, or you can join us indoors for craft fairs, book sales, poetry readings and art classes.

"Since when does Fort Mason Center have an outdoor performance space?" With installation scheduled for July, the outdoor Bandshell—which was created from salvaged car hoods, recycled circuit boards, and reclaimed wood—will be located on central campus. The Bandshell will host improv, musical and circus performances, readings and meetings, lunch space, and impromptu public performances. If you are interested in reserving a time in the Bandshell let us know at contact@fortmason.org.



Destination Fort Mason includes three exhibits (all free to the public): 1) Green Dimensions: An Exhibit Celebrating Bay Area Artists and Reclaimed Art Materials (until August 16); 2) Pipeline: Art, Surfing, and the Ocean Environment at the SFMOMA Artists Gallery (until August 28); and 3) the PARKcycle, an art project consisting of a 10-foot x 4-foot planted garden, mounted onto the front of three bicycles, planted by the San Francisco Community Garden (until September 18).

The Destination Fort Mason Center Treasure Hunt will be available daily from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. in the Main Office. Visitors exploring the Fort Mason Center campus will receive a free chance to win prizes from our own Fort Mason Center organizations. The hunt will be family-friendly and require just a short time commitment to complete. Participants will be entered in a free drawing. Prizes will be donated by the Magic Theatre, SFMOMA, BATS Improv, Long Now Foundation, Fort Mason Center, California Lawyers for the Arts, the Museo ItaloAmericano, Greens Restaurant, San Francisco Children's Art Center and the Blue Bear School of Music. Pick up the Hunt map in the Main Office, Building A.

Don't miss "San Francisco Circus Center's New Pickle Circus presents ensemble circus group Pi," on the Bandshell staging area every Saturday (through Aug.22). On Family Day, August 29, we will bring you "San Francisco Circus Center's New Pickle Circus presents the circus troupe Circus Bella."

The activities and performances lineup is partially outlined below.

For a complete schedule, please check www.fortmason.org or call 415-345-7500.

Crafting Fine Art Shows

▶ HERBST & FESTIVAL PAVILIONS

Summer brings many fun activities to Fort Mason Center (FMC), including two major craft shows in July and August – the Renegade Craft Fair and the American Craft Council (ACC) Show.

Renegade Craft Fair. A new kind of craft fair returns to FMC for the second time in 2009 when the Renegade fair sets up shop in July. Dedicated to DIY (do-it-yourself) crafters, this fair is barely six years old but has already attracted a lot of notice in crafting and collecting circles. Expect to see unusual items you won't find at other fairs – from stationery, posters, and prints to craft kits, plush creations, and radical clothing and jewelry designs.

Swing by the Renegade fair on Saturday and Sunday, July 18 and 19, from 11:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. Free. Visit www.renegadecraft.com for more information and photos of the type of DIY crafts featured at Renegade fairs.

American Craft Council Show. The ACC Show arrives at Fort Mason Center for the final stop in its four-city tour across the US in 2009. Both huge pavilions are scarcely large enough to hold the diverse array of craft art displayed by talented artisans in all media.

Hundreds of artists exhibit and sell their work – ranging from glass, ceramic, wood, and metal objects to fiber art, clothing, jewelry, toys, and home items. The show features unique handmade works of art in styles from classic to contemporary, suitable for any budget.

Make plans to visit the ACC show on August 14–16, Friday through Sunday. Check the web site for show times and ticket prices at www.craftcouncil.org or call (800) 836-3470.
